

Stratus Solutions enabled a leading Fortune 500 aerospace and defense contractor to increase their efficiency in building and deploying mission control system software for an unmanned aircraft system from 12 days with upwards of 7 full time staff to only 3 days with just 2 staff.

Stratus' talented engineers developed an innovative, tailored solution to integrate Electric Cloud's Electric Flow continuous delivery platform into our customer's hybrid cloud environment automating their existing DevOps workflow process.

This savings of over 600 man hours per month has already been seen across 4 separate physical locations to date where the software is developed.
